City announces start of Main Street rejuvenation

Monthlong project to be done in phases

BY MARK CAMPBELL

Madison's Main Street rejuvenation project — the proposal to patch and reseal 4.2-miles of highway from Jefferson Street west to the top of Hanover Hill — is scheduled to begin Monday, July 16 and continue through Aug. 16.

Madison Deputy Mayor and Chief of Staff Mindy McGee announced the scope and timeline of the work at Tuesday's meeting of the city's Board of Public Works and Safety, noting that with repairs impacting so many residents and businesses the city wants to give as much advance notice as possible.

The project is scheduled, weather permitting, to be conducted in two major phases with all milling and patch work done July 12-31 and crack sealing and application of asphalt sealer taking place Aug. 1-20. Each of those phases will be broken down into two smaller phases with work from Jefferson Street to Crooked Creek and back to Jefferson Street done first and work from Crooked Creek to the top of Hanover Hill and back to Crooked Creek done second.

Contractors also will work in four block sections with the north side of Main Street to Crooked Creek scheduled first before the south side is done second.

Regatta Nuptials

Couple's wedding plans turn into Gold Cup ceremony

BY BOB DEMAREE

Of the many Madison Regatta traditions involving fathers and sons and families meeting up in Madison on race weekend, one now includes the son's new wife joining the fun after Ben and Mary Ringle were married by Mayor Bob Courtney in a brief ceremony during a break in the racing action Sunday on the riverfront.

"This is the first day of their lives together," said Courtney, noting it's special that it all began at the Madison Regatta.

The new bride said this weekend was not only her first visit to the Madison Regatta, but also her first time in Indiana but she likes what she's seen so far.

"It's awesome, just amazing," Mary Ringle said of the boat race, a feeling she now shares with new husband, Ben.

"It's the feeling I get when a boat starts up," Ben said.

Robbins still keeping it young

"I'm a grandpa now," says Bobby Robbins, leader of the Young Country, one of Madison's most popular and successful homegrown bands. "So these days, if it ain't fun, I'm not doing it."

"Believe me, we did the grind back in the day. We'd take any gig anywhere. All those fun shows at Coyote's Bar down in Louisville, and opening for so many great country acts. I don't regret a minute of it, but I'm also kind of glad I'm past that stage of my musical career.

"I'm doing a lot of two man shows with Ronnie Green these days, we have a great musical chemistry. And if I need the full Young Country band I can just grab Kerry Mefford, Tom Steveley and Danny Cook and we're back in business.

"We've got a few shows in the works this summer, starting with an event called Forever Young at Red Bicycle Hall on July 23. It's Young Country, Jordan Wilson and SPKR doing all the different genres from the '90's. Should be a blast.

"It's getting to be a 30-year journey now, it's hard to believe.

BZA tables proposed campground once again

BY BOB DEMAREE

A decision on a camping area proposed at 4004 North Old State Road 62 in Madison Township — on hold since April — was once again tabled at Tuesday's meeting of the Jefferson County Board of Zoning Appeals after petitioner Sam Simons informed the board that he would be unable to attend the meeting.

Attorney Rob Barlow was there with John Muessel, who owns nearby property at 3816 North Old State Road 62 and had been at the April County BZA meeting in opposition to the campground.

"There are several neighbors here tonight that would like to see the issue addressed that would have liked to have received more notice about it being tabled," said Barlow.

The email that Simons had sent earlier in day stated that he had not yet been able to place markers of the cabin locations which had been requested by the BZA.

The BZA felt that in order to be fair it needed to give Simons the chance to state his case, but also feels that matter has lingered for more than three months with no action by Simons. The BZA won't meet in August, so its next meeting will be in September with two more months available for Simons to provide what the board requested.

Hanover pledges endorsement to veterinary hub, new bike trail

BY BOB DEMAREE

Two possible projects that could have a positive impact on southeastern Indiana received support from the Hanover Town Council at its meeting Tuesday.

Kay Stokes, special assistant to the president of Hanover College for accreditation and external relations, told the council about a partnership with Hanover College and Ivy Tech-Madison to establish southern Indiana as a hub for veterinary medicine, bio science and agribusiness. The partners would create a Veterinary Teaching Center, which because of shortages in veterinary services and the high demand, Stokes said would provide an economic impact to the region, along with attracting potential residents and employers.

The program is one that Stokes is proposing to the Our Southern Indiana Regional Development Authority as it competes for part of a $500 million Regional Economic Acceleration and Development Initiative (READI) in which regions can be awarded up to $50 million for implementation of their regional development strategies.

Stokes also told about a plan for bike trails that would extend from Madison to Hanover, and then work toward connecting with other trails following the Ohio River to a trail system that includes Clark, Floyd, Washington and Harrison counties.

BZA

The BZA tabled the petition until the Sept. 7 meeting, but added a statement that "at that time, whether or not Mr. Simons has what we've requested him to do, a decision will be made."

In other business, the board,

• Approved a request by Steve and Jennifer Gray, 5431 East Risk Ridge Road, in Shelby Township for a 30-foot x 40-foot pole barn in which they requested a 43-foot setback from the center of the road instead of the required 90 foot, and 20-foot setback from the east side of the property line instead of the required 25 feet. Jennifer Gray noted that the location of the pole barn is due to the lateral line for the septic system. The board approved the variance as it is a lightly traveled area and that the barn fits into the landscape of that area, which is agricultural.

• Approved a request from John DeWeese, 7022 S. Majors Road, in Saluda Township for a 14-foot x 32-foot prebuilt storage shed which needs a 8-feet setback from the south side of the property line instead of the required 25 feet. DeWeese submitted a letter from the adjoining landowner who is OK with the variance. With that the board approved the variance; also noting the building is one that's suitable for that neighborhood.

NUPTIALS

When Ben and Mary decided to get married the race came to mind and it turned out even better than planned.

"We were just going to do it on the grass, and make it simple and small down on the riverfront," Ben said, adding that Mary thought they might need to ask permission, "and it just snowballed from there."

The ceremony ended up being held at the Regatta Judge's Stand — the APBA Gold and Indiana Governor's cups as backdrops — with music and nuptials all broadcast on the PA system with the Regatta Queens and thousands of spectators as witnesses applauding approval.

Courtney was thrilled to have the opportunity to officiate, noting it was the perfect event to help him just relax and enjoy the Regatta.

Following a year when the Madison Regatta was canceled due to COVID-19, Courtney said this year "has been a massive effort" to make the Madison Regatta happen, and to be part of their wedding is a happy moment that "takes a little pressure off ... I loved being a part of making this happen, and it went off flawlessly."

Ben hopes to continue attending Madison Regattas moving forward, a family tradition now made even more special a his and Mary's anniversary. "It's a family thing, and I want to do this the rest of my life," he said of the race and being married. "If we could come back every year, it would be really cool."

HANOVER

"Hanover would become a major stop on the regional trail," Stoke noted.

Hanover Town Council unanimously agreed to adopt letters to be submitted to OurSIRDA in support of both proposals.

In other business:

• Nuisance Officer/Building Inspector Rick Schnebelt introduced a software program that he would like the town to invest in for recording data related to nuisance violations, ordinances and permits. Schnebelt said the program from iWorQ would provide a means for maintaining a database to efficiently organize and access the information.

"It keeps track of everything," said Schnebelt.

Clerk-treasurer Keith Mefford said the program also would allow town council members to have access to log-in for any information that they would need. "You can create a work order," he said, for any project that a town council thinks needs to be done.

No action was taken on the proposal other than plans to discuss it again at a future meeting. There would be initial setup costs, along with an annual fee of $2,500.

Schnebelt said he is working toward enforcing the town's nuisance laws while also encouraging local residents to participate. "We want a clean and positive town," said Schnebelt, adding the hope is "not to fine a lot, but to get people on board for cleaning the town up."

He said there are some residents who are challenged to clean up their properties and "we want people to know that we're really here to help them," he said.

• Discussed curb replacement on October Street in which Mefford would like to work toward seeking grant funding that would more effectively address the issues there.

"There are drainage issues that we just keep putting off," said Mefford, who wants to work toward getting funding for that to help resolve the the problem. "If we fix the issues, I think people will think differently about the properties themselves," he added.

Mefford said if the curb work includes efforts to improve the road drainage, "I think they will be more inclined to invest in their properties."

• Board member Debbie Kroger asked the town council its thoughts on changing the structure of the county's cable advisory board in which Kroger is a member.

"We're struggling," she said, noting "we've missed three meetings because we've not had a quorum." Representatives from Jefferson County, Madison and Hanover have each had three representatives, and Kroger wondered about changing that so there are two representatives from each entity on the board.

Lori Hedges, a member of the cable advisory board who was at the meeting operating a video camera for Jefferson County Community Television, asked for ideas about what content should be included on the channel besides meetings. "We want people to turn it on, and see what our community is all about," she said.

• Agreed to adopt Northwoods Court and Wooded Court onto Hanover's street inventory. Mefford noted it's important for streets to be included in the town's inventory in order to receive state funding for them, and adopting those streets is part the process they are going through to make sure the town's street inventory is accurate. "There are some not showing on INDOT's (Indiana Department of Transportation) map correctly," he said.

• Received an update on auctions of two town properties that were held in June. The property at 138 Ohio Avenue sold for $17,500 and the property at 132 Maple Street sold for $18,000.

• Approved an ordinance for paying off-duty officers for security during town events at a range from $25 per hour to $35 per hour.

• Heard a request by Erin Thomas of LifeTime Resources for $4,500 funding for 2022, an increase from this year's budget of $4,100. Thomas said the organization works to provide services that help people maintain their independence. Thomas said LifeTime's services to Jefferson County are valued at $1.2 million, and noted what the town provides is a match for other resources that the organization receives. "I have been very impressed," said council member Treva Shelton, noting she has observed the organization's work in the community. "You guys do a great job," said board president Kenny Garrett.

• Hanover Clean-up Days will be July 19-25 from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. for residents within the Hanover town limits. Dumpsters will be available at the Hanover Compost Center. A compost pass, which can be issued at the Hanover Town Hall, is needed when using the service.

ROBBINS

I got out of the Navy in 1990 and reconnected with my old childhood musical buddy, Ronnie Dunlap. We started playing the Railroad Inn in Carrollton. I remember our light show was one of those old spinning three-color Christmas tree lights, you remember those?

"Anyway, we started coming over to Madison to enjoy the music scene and one night we ran into Ronnie Green playing at the Drake. He coaxed me and Dunlap onto the stage and we sang a Dwight Yoakum tune. That was pretty much the germination of the Young Country band.

"It was Bobby Sampson on bass in those early days, Berry Burrelson on drums. They were all a bunch of long-haired rockers, but we converted them over to country! As the years went by we also had Deano Crafton and Dennis O'Neal on drums. Dennis is one of the best ever.

"Speaking of the best ever, I also love playing with Jimmy Davis whenever I get the chance. I don't know what it is about his style, but he just makes the songs sound different. I love it.

"These days I just want to do the cool stuff, the music I like to sing and play. It's not about the money. And I haven't played with Ronnie Dunlap for over 10 years now, and I thought when he left it that was the end of it. But I discovered that I could grow and adapt and keep going.

"I really miss Ronnie, and I love him, but it's given me more freedom to do more things vocally.

"I'm also finding, thanks to the rich talent pool in Madison, that it's been fairly easy to pull together some of these potluck bands on short notice. The guys we have around here are real pros. I just tell them the songs and they go!"

HOT TIP OF THE WEEK

On Sunday at 6:30 p.m., Davy Harmon will be playing at Off Broadway Taproom. This is actually very big news. The return of Sunday music at the Taproom marks the total return of this venerable venue to its pre-pandemic schedule. Once again the Taproom has live music FIVE nights a week (every night except Monday and Wednesday). If you are a fan of quality, original live music, don't miss the Songwriter in the Round show at Red Bike on Saturday. Greg Foresman and his friends make the magic happen every time.

SPECIAL AT THE MAD PADDLE

Sunday 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. The School of Rock Show Team is made up of some of the most talented and dedicated young musicians from the Louisville area. These are professional-level performers who play far beyond their years. They play a family-friendly setlist of classic rock that ranges from Pink Floyd to Pearl Jam, from the Rolling Stones to Rush — and many other crowd pleasers. These kids put on a great show!

Charlie Rohlfing is a retired advertising man and partner in The Red Bicycle Hall music venue. Look for his distinctive fedora bobbing above the crowd, anywhere live local music is happening.

Bob was a real estate broker and owned and operated a real estate company in Jefferson County. He was first employed at the Jefferson Proving Grounds in 1961 as a proof technician and retired in 1987 after holding several positions through the years. He was co-founder of the Jefferson Community Federal Credit Union and served on the Board of Directors. Bob loved watching his grandchildren grow up. He also loved golf and was proud of his "hole in one" at Sunrise. Watching sports and working in his garden were highlights in his day. He was a fisherman, a hunter, a carpenter, a home builder, and a little league coach. Bob will be remembered as a caring husband, dad and grandpa. Bob died on Tuesday, June 29, 2021, at 5:38 p.m. at the Hosparus Inpatient Unit of Norton Pavilion in Louisville, Kentucky.

Celebrating high school graduates

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: When kids graduate from high school, parents and grandparents obviously are very proud of their kids. Rightfully so.

Our issue is with the fairly new practice of putting signs on the front lawn, or front door, with the student's picture on them.

For instance, there is a home in our neighborhood with a photo of the daughter announcing her graduation. What concerns us is that this young girl is very beautiful, and the picture of her is from chest-level to the top of her head.

This is, in our opinion, not the best thing to do when there are so many child predators and kidnappers around. Parents and grandparents, we urge you to please think twice before putting your child's picture on display. Do you agree? — Concerned Neighbors in Florida

Dear Concerned: It saddens me to think that parents cannot celebrate their children's accomplishments in a public way. But I do understand your concern and would urge parents to use their judgment about what information they choose to make public. Maybe a good compromise would be to post a sign saying, "We are so proud of our son" or, "We are so proud of our daughter" — without a photo or name.

Dear Annie: Father's Day always reminds me of the gratitude I feel toward my dad, and as that special day passed recently, I thought about him and how he inspired me to appreciate the natural world around us. I have written a verse in tribute to him that your readers might enjoy:

My dad instilled in me a love of nature.

Had it not been from his example, I would never have appreciated

The beauty of the world around us. He walked with me in the woods.

He sat with me on our country gallery looking out at the lake and Talked with me about the importance of the land.

He died in 2006, young at 76 … I think of him when I see a gathering of birds,

Of flowers, bodies of water and beautiful trees, wishing he was standing beside me.

— Nature-Loving Daughter

Dear Nature-Loving: What a wonderful tribute! If you have ever seen a beautiful sunset, crashing waves or magnificent 100-year-old trees, you know the healing power of nature. In a world so full of distractions and technology, it is so nice that your father taught you to go back to the basics for a happy, peaceful and joyous life. I highly recommend reading, or rereading, Henry David Thoreau's book "Walden."

Beware of online scammers

Dear Annie: In several columns, you've mentioned Match.com as a good place for singles to meet other singles. Well, my mother-in-law lost her entire savings, more than $70,000, to a scammer on one of the most popular dating sites. There was no recourse available from either her bank or the site. No social media site is safe from scammers. — Offline

Dear Offline: Your words of caution are warranted — and yet another reminder to never give money or your banking information to someone you've met online.

Dear Annie: I'm desperately in need of your advice. I've been married to my husband for 16 years; we've been together 20 years. We'd always had a decent sex life up until two years ago. The sex just stopped. He was never in the mood. I had no clue what had changed. Well, about six months ago, I discovered that he's been watching porn a couple of times a week (at least), for as far back as our computer history showed. I confronted him about it. He said it was no big deal — that most men have a porn habit. But it is a big deal to me. It has lowered my self-esteem and made me feel very lonely and unlovable — like it's my fault that he doesn't want me.

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

He acts like I should be OK with it, but to me, what he's doing is a form of cheating. I don't know what to do or how to handle it. — Feeling Betrayed

Dear Feeling: If this were indeed just a habit, then there might be middle ground on which to meet him. But when a behavior becomes so compulsive that it disrupts one's marriage and prevents physical intimacy for years on end, it's no longer a habit. It's an addiction.

Have a heart-to-heart with your husband. While your hurt feelings are understandable, try to set aside any anger when you talk to him about this. Put love front and center, expressing concern for his health and letting him know how his behavior impacts you. Hopefully, he'll be open to seeking help overcoming this addiction, through counseling or a support group. Regardless, you can seek help for yourself. Visit https://www.psychologytoday.com/groups/sexual-addiction, and enter your ZIP code to find groups for those addicted to pornography as well as groups for spouses/partners.

Dear Annie: I just spent my first Father's Day without my dad, who tragically passed away from COVID-19 a few months ago. I am feeling heartbroken but also grateful. Without a doubt in my mind or heart, the most significant trait that my beloved father instilled in me through his role modeling of it is resilience.

He developed this life-saving trait throughout a difficult childhood and continued relying on it through serious debilitating health issues later on in his life, always facing each one with grit and grace.

I have also been experiencing an exceptionally challenging life, the latest bump in the road being an aggressive form of cancer. My deeply entrenched resiliency has and continues to be invaluable. Thank you, Daddy. — Grateful Daughter

Dear Grateful: I'm so sorry for your loss and your diagnosis. They say we should be the things we loved most about the people who are gone. It sounds like you're living that credo. Your dad would be proud.

Main Street Summer Maintenance Plan

Project overview and information	Project runs from west side of Jefferson Street & Main to Highway 62 Work will be divided into two phases Order of work to be completed in each section: Milling and patching of worst areas in need of repair Crack sealing of remaining areas Liquid Road application Striping Timeline: All work will be completed by end of August (weather dependent), with a few week window before Chautauqua, in case of delays All work in sections will have flaggers, message boards and posted "no parking" signs, including estimated date windows for completion of that section, so parking can resume. All signage will say "weather permitting". May be asking for MPD officer assistance in certain sections, especially in the central business district. Work days may begin as early as 7am and stop by 7pm, Monday-Friday
July 12th - July 31st (weather permitting)	Phase 1: Jefferson Street (north side) to Crooked Creek bridge and back to Jefferson (south side) - then Hanover Hill to Highway 62 (including 256) No parking signs will be placed in areas where work will begin in 24 hours Work zone: curb to center line so travel can continue, one lane each east and west on the opposite side from work. Working four blocks at a time, crews will begin on the north side of Main milling and patching, all the way to the Crooked Creek bridge on the west end. At the bridge, crews will turn around and work the south side of Main, four blocks at a time with milling and patching, until they return to Jefferson Street on the south side. Following the same work pattern, crews will move out to the west end at Crooked Creek bridge and working on the north side, move to the top of Hanover Hill and Highway 62 (including 256 section), then return back to the bridge on the south side.
August 1st - August 20th (weather permitting)	Phase 2: Jefferson Street (north side) to Crooked Creek bridge and back to Jefferson (south side) - then Hanover Hill to Highway 62 (including 256) Following same pattern as phase 1, including no parking signage and work hours/days, crews will begin on the north side of Jefferson and Main with crack sealing and application of Liquid Roac product. As soon as Liquic Road has time to set (approximately 2-3 hours), striping crews will complete new striping in each section - continuing on north side of Main to Crooked Creek bridge then turning around and completing on the south side, back to Jefferson. Once Main Street is complete, crews will return to the Crooked Creek bridge and work on the north side to Highway 62 and then back on the south side.
No changes to central business district	No changes to striping central business district. Four driving lanes, parallel parking, crosswalks, no bike lane. Crosswalks will remain as they are. However, crosswalks on the east and west sides of intersections at Vine and Elm will have lighted/flashing signage as improvements since they are not at stoplights.

MAIN STREET MAINTENANCE PLAN

The project will then resume on the north side of the highway from Crooked Creek to the top of Hanover Hill and finally on the south side of the highway from the hilltop back to Crooked Creek.

McGee said the various phases are designed to provide the safest and quickest plan for finishing the job in a timely fashion, to keep the road at least partially open throughout and impact individual areas for the least amount of time. By working in four block segments, each area should be impacted no more than one day at a time but during work the street will be closed from center line to the curb with no parking allowed so that traffic can be routed to the other side of the street to allow workers to safetly make repairs on the opposite side. There will be flaggers, message boards and assistance by police when needed.

"There will be no road closings but there will be some lane shifting," said McGee, adding that local residents and businesses owners will be given as much advance notice as possible of when work will begin in their area through posted signage, social media and press releases.

In addition, contractors will follow an extended work day schedule from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday in an effort to finish the project as soon as possible. No work is scheduled to be done on weekend's and the schedule should allow the project to be completed prior to the city next big festival, the Madison Ribberfest Aug. 20-21.

According to McGee, the work is necessary if the city is to extend the useful life of Main Street until a federal grant becomes available to re-mill and repave the highway in 2026. The rejuvenation has been planned since the city took over the highway — formerly old State Road 56 — from the state last year but continued and advanced deterioration has led to a bigger project than initially anticipated.

McGee said the highway has about 200 badly deteriorated spots that will need patching and many cracks that will need filling before a sealer can be applied to preserve the surface and give it a more new appearance. The work will involve milling off high spots in some cases and cleaning out and refilling holes in others. The entire side of the roadway in some stretches of Hanover Hill have crumbled and will need to be rebuilt.

"The shoulders on Hanover Hill are in really bad shape," BPWS member Karl Eaglin noted.

"Most of that section is on a concrete base," McGee said. "That right lane was added later and does not have the concrete base so it is crumbling ... we may need to look at ways to reinforce the right lane."

"Hanover Hill gets lots more traffic now with dump trucks taken off Main Street," said BPWS member David Carlow. "A lot more trucks use the top portion of that road now."

Mayor Bob Courtney said the issue is one of deferred maintenance by the state that has now become the city's problem. "That road has not bee adequately maintained for at least a decade

Prior to work beginning next week, and throughout the project, the city will post signage in the affected areas noting lane closings and reminders concerning parking. The city will also utilize local media and social media to provide updates on the work.

In Memory Of

Clesley "Babe" Corn

Clesley "Babe" Corn, 94, of Austin, IN, passed away at 3:00 AM on Sunday, July 4th, 2021, at his home.

Clesley was born Thursday, January 13, 1927, in Sinai, KY. He is the son of Harrison Corn and Nina Robinson Disponette both who preceded him in death.

On February 14, 1992, Clesley married Charlotte L. (Keith) Corn.

On December 5, 1945, Clesley was drafted by the Army during World War II, where he served for 2 years until he was honorably discharged on his 20th birthday January 13, 1947.

Clesley was known as "Babe" to everyone because he was the baby of the family. He worked in construction, was a member at Wesley Chapel Church in Austin, IN, a lifelong member at the American Legion Post #9 and V.F.W Post #1969, both in Madison, IN. He was a workaholic, loved to square dance with his wife Charlotte, and always found something to fix or build.

Clesley is survived by his wife, Charlotte L. (Keith) Corn of Austin, IN, his 3 children, Garry Lee (Rebecka P.) Corn of Deputy, IN, Terry Dee (Martha) Corn of Pensacola, FL, and Lawrence (Freda) Riley of Austin, IN, 3 grandchildren, Misty Dawn Waltz Boggs, Nathan Corn, and Jeremy Corn, 4 great-grandchildren Daylon Whisman, Veronica Whisman, Elija Boggs and Raymond Burress. He was preceded in death by 1 daughter, Lois Ann Corn, 1 son, Russell Ray Riley, 1 granddaughter, Linda Jean Waltz Cook, 8 brothers, 6 sisters, and his first wife, Geneva O. ‘I think we brought the correct boat’

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Roughly an hour after most fans had left the riverfront and the festivities had ended on Sunday, Miss Madison Racing President Charlie Grooms stood in the pits watching his crew prepare the team’s boat for the long trek to the Tri-Cities, Washington. Finally, with a wry smile, he spoke.

“I guess I knew what the hell I was talking about,” Grooms said.

Nearly three weeks after Grooms was vilified on social media for his decision to run the team’s older boat rather than the state-of-the-art newer craft, Grooms basked in the glow of the team’s fifth APBA Gold Cup win and a dominating victory in front of its home fans on the Ohio River in Madison.

To to the team, the outcome was never in doubt. While others may have questioned the decision, every person on the team had faith in the beloved boat known as “Sharky.”

“I think we brought the correct boat to win the Gold Cup, and I think the team made some very good decisions leading up to the first two races of this year,” driver Jimmy Shane said. “We knew the boat was good. We knew that it could be better, but we knew that it was good and that it was a good rough-water boat. And we did it. We achieved our goals”

The decision to use the older boat was based completely on finances. With sponsors HomeStreet Bank and Goodman Real Estate taking a step back this year in the aftermath of the COVID-19 pandemic and the uncertainties surrounding the H1 Unlimited season, Grooms knew that it was not financially feasible to bring both of the team’s boats out to race.

Mark Campbell

When deciding between which boat to run, the decision was made to use the older boat rather than risk costly damage to the new one.

Of course “Sharky” was not a liability, regardless of what the online community believed. The boat, which was designed by Dale VanWeirengen and built by current Miss Madison crew chief Mike Hanson in 2007, is one of the most celebrated hulls in H1 history. Sunday’s win was its 24th victory — third-most all-time — and 171 heat wins are the most ever.

David Campbell

Despite those accolades, drivers Shane and Jeff Bernard were put in the unusual position of having to defend a boat that they knew was arguably the fastest on the circuit.

“This is a very fast boat. Sure, the newer boat is more efficient and corners better, but with all of the primary equipment, this is a very fast boat,” Bernard said before the season-opener at Guntersville, Alabama two weeks ago. “In 2014, this boat did a 166 (mph) at San Diego and I was with another team and we got to see the data and it was a legal 166. The new boat has never done 166. This is a very fast boat and I’m excited.”

The boat didn’t show that speed at Guntersville but Bernard, serving as primary driver, still won two preliminary heat races. But the team saved all of its good equipment for Madison and the machine that Shane drove this past weekend was a rocket ship.

Shane wasn’t touched in winning all four heats en route to his 20th win on the H1 circuit. Despite a rough first turn that tore up boats all weekend, “Sharky” came through nearly without a scratch.

“The boat just had the right package, the right gear combination and the right setup for the rough water and Mike Hanson did a wonderful job to win the Gold Cup again,” Shane said.

The Miss Madison team leaves its hometown race with its sixth APBA Gold Cup in tow and a 504-point lead in the National High Points standings. What the future holds is anybody’s guess. The next scheduled races on the schedule are in the Tri-Cities on July 23-25 and in San Diego Sept. 17-19 and there are no indications that the team will deviate from its current path.

“With the question marks this season, we wanted to get Jeff and I re-qualified in the boat and we wanted to win the Gold Cup,” Shane said. “We achieved those goals and we even have the points lead. This has been the perfect scenario.”

Castellanos, Suarez lift Reds over Royals, 6-2

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Eugenio Suarez clubbed a tie-breaking three-run home run shortly after Nick Castellanos hit a tying solo shot and the Cincinnati Reds beat the Kansas City Royals 6-2 on Monday night.

Suarez hit a 1-1 pitch off the Royals Hall of Fame in left field to give his team a three-run lead in the seventh inning. The homer was his 17th of the season and came off Kyle Zimmer against his first batter of the game.

“It’s never comfortable being down late, but there is growing confidence we can come back in games,” Reds manager David Bell said. “That was a big blow, but Castellanos’ homer was big, too.”

Vladimir Gutierrez (4-3) went six innings and gave up two runs, five hits and two walks with six strikeouts.

“I felt really good out there and throughout the week have felt good,” Gutierrez said. “I’ve been looking at what went wrong in the last start and just focus on getting better.”

Mike Minor (6-7) pitched well until the seventh inning when Castellanos turned on the first pitch he saw and drove it over the left-center field fence to tie it at two. It was also Castellanos’ 17th homer.

Minor pitched six innings, allowing three hits, three walks and four earned runs with six strikeouts.

The Reds added a run in the ninth after Aristides Aquino’s triple and an RBI single by Tyler Naquin.

In the second inning, the Reds got on the board first after a double by Tyler Stephenson and a single by Joey Votto. Suarez then grounded into a double play that scored a run.

Royals 7, Reds 6 (Tuesday) — Salvador Pérez’s walk-off single capped Kansas City’s four-run rally as the Royals beat the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 Tuesday night.

The Royals scored six runs off the Reds’ bullpen in the final two innings and Pérez got his third game-ending hit this season.

Trailing 6-3 to start the ninth, the Royals got the tying run on second with no outs without the benefit of a hit. Ryan O’Hearn walked and Hunter Dozier was hit by a pitch. Michael A. Taylor then rolled a ground ball through the legs of Eugenio Suarez at third, scoring O’Hearn.

With one out, Nicky Lopez flared a ball into short left field, scoring both runners to tie it 6-6. He went to second on the throw, then advanced to third on an error on left fielder Aristides Aquino. Whit Merrifield walked and Andrew Benintendi struck out, bringing Pérez to the plate.

Richard Lovelady (2-0) picked up the win. Heath Hembree (2-4) took the loss.

Kyle Farmer and Tyler Stephenson each had three hits for the Reds. Farmer’s three hits included a double and a two-run home run.

Former Madison football coach Dowell on IFCA All-Star staff

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Mike Dowell spends more time on the golf course these days than he does on a football field, but the veteran coach still finds time to work with his first love and that work has brought him to the pinnacle of his profession.

Dowell, the former head football coach at Madison and current defensive coordinator at South Decatur High School, will be on the sidelines as a coach for the annual IFCA All-Star Game at Anderson University on Friday. It is the first time in his over 20-year career that Dowell has been chosen for the staff and he is beyond excited to get started.

Mike Dowell

“I’ve been around for a long time and when you’re around a long time you get to do some neat things,” Dowell said. “This is kind of the peak of my career. I’m very humbled and very honored to be a part of it.”

Dowell had coached at several stops before coming to Madison in 2002 as head coach. He took over a program that was already into a long losing streak that eventually reached 22-straight before the Cubs broke through with a five-win campaign in 2005 that included a win in the sectional tournament for the first time in 15 years.

Nowadays, Dowell can usually be found at Cozy Acres, running the pro shop or giving lessons, but in the fall, he’ll be at South Decatur leading the defense under coach Rick Zimmerman, whom Dowell has known for over two decades.

It was Zimmerman that got Dowell back into coaching last year and it was Zimmerman who nominated Dowell to work the All-Star game. Dowell has always played a large part in the IFCA and has worked the event several times as a volunteer, but this will be his first time on the sidelines.

“I’ve been the All-Star chair, I’ve helped select the teams and I have been on committees, but this is my first time coaching,” Dowell said. “Coach Zimmerman nominated me and each region votes on a head coach and an assistant coach. And honestly, you usually have to do some amazing things to get selected. This coach had an undefeated season, or this coach won a championship. At South Decatur, we had the second-best scoring defense in the state behind only Center Grove and that is something that I am immensely excited about.”

Although Dowell coaches defense at South Decatur, he will be coaching running backs at the All-Star game. It is a fitting position for the offensive-minded Dowell.

“Being on the other side of the ball has given me a real different perspective but I’m an offensive guy at heart,” said Dowell, who also coached running backs at Hanover College. “I’m looking forward to it.”

As an added bonus, Dowell’s 12-year-old son Jacob, a current seventh-grader at Madison, will get to be on the sidelines with him.

“Jacob will get to be there as a ball boy and will get to participate in everything,” Dowell said. “It’s such a great opportunity and I’m just tickled to have him there.”

The All-Star festivities actually began on Tuesday with practices and team pictures with an awards program set for Thursday night. The game will begin at 7:15 p.m. Friday at Anderson University.

Paul carries Suns past Giannis, Bucks in NBA Finals opener

BY BRIAN MAHONEY
AP BASKETBALL WRITER

PHOENIX — Chris Paul waited 16 years to get to the NBA Finals, bringing with him a team starving for its first championship.

The setting was entirely new.

The performance was same ol' Chris Paul.

"Just knew he's ready," Phoenix forward Mikal Bridges said. "He's prepared his whole life for this moment and it shows out there on the court."

Paul had 32 points and nine assists in an NBA Finals debut that was well worth the wait, Devin Booker scored 27 points and the Suns beat the returning Giannis Antetokounmpo and his Milwaukee Bucks 118-105 on Tuesday night in Game 1.

Paul scored 16 points during a sensational third quarter that had Phoenix fans who waited 28 years to see the NBA Finals again screaming in delight.

"Every time he shoots it we think it's going in," Booker said.

It almost did in the third quarter, when Paul was 6 for 7 and made all three 3-pointers.

Finally playing for the title in his 16th season, the star point guard has the Suns in the NBA Finals for only the third time, and it sure looked as if they could make this ending different than the other two.

"We've been building all season long for these moments," Paul said. "We're going to keep playing. This is just one game. We've got to stay locked in."

Deandre Ayton added 22 points and 19 rebounds to continue his breakout stretch of play in his first postseason.

Antetokounmpo had 20 points and 17 rebounds after missing two games with a hyperextended left knee. Khris Middleton scored 29 points, but the Bucks will have to play from behind again after dropping Game 1 for the third straight series.

"We know it's not going to be easy. We know it's going to be tough," Middleton said. "There's times where we're going to be down in this series. But this series isn't over. We're down. We've still got to keep competing and just playing."

The series opener was the first NBA Finals game in Phoenix since Michael Jordan's Chicago Bulls won their third straight championship here in Game 6 in 1993.

The Suns, who came into the NBA with the Bucks in 1968, made their only other finals appearance in 1976.

They hadn't even made the playoffs since 2010 and just two years ago were last in the Western Conference with a 19-63 record.

But Booker was already headed for stardom by then, and 2018 No. 1 pick Ayton has played at that level in the postseason. Paul has been steady as always since his arrival in an offseason trade.

Now 36 and a 10-time All-NBA selection, he is on the list of best players to never win a championship. It appeared he might never even get to play for one until Oklahoma City dealt him to a team of Suns on the rise, and he might be the final piece that takes them all the way to the top.

Despite so many debuts on the finals stage — the Suns' Jae Crowder was the only player who had appeared in them, and that was for Miami at a neutral site last year — there didn't appear to be many first-time jitters.

But Paul shifted the Suns into another gear in the third. His opening jumper provided the first double-digit lead of the game, and he followed with a four-point play for the Suns' next basket.

He scored eight straight Phoenix points later in the period, hitting a 3-pointer, dancing around Bobby Portis for a layup and then hitting another 3. He then fired a pass to Ayton, who was fouled and made both free throws to make it 88-68 with 2:20 left.

"Their pick-and-roll game is tough to guard," Bucks coach Mike Budenholzer said. "I think we've just got to keep getting better. We'll look at the film. We'll see how we can maybe take away some of the rhythm."

The Bucks cut it down to seven near the midpoint of the fourth before Paul helped the Suns restore a safe margin. He found Booker for a 3-pointer, stole the ball from Middleton and then hit a jumper to make it 106-94.

Milwaukee also is making its third finals appearance, having won the title in 1971 but not getting another chance since losing in 1974. The Bucks got a boost for this appearance when Antetokounmpo worked his way back quickly from an injury that looked serious when it happened.

The two-time MVP missed the final two games of the Eastern Conference finals. He was listed as doubtful for the opener, but he was upgraded to questionable Tuesday and then inserted into the starting lineup after he worked out on the court before the game.

"I'm just happy that I'm out there and I'm able to help my team in any way possible and participate in my first NBA Finals," Antetokounmpo said.

The Bucks threw a lob to Antetokounmpo on their first possession — a play similar to the one he was defending when he was injured in Game 4 of the Eastern Conference finals against Atlanta — and he seemed to attack the basket just as forcefully as always.

But Jrue Holiday, who played so well while Antetokounmpo was out, shot just 4 for 14 and scored 10 points.

TIP-INS

Bucks: The Bucks said they had 9,000 fans watching the game inside Fiserv Forum and 20,000 outside in the Deer District. ... Brook Lopez scored 17 points.

Suns: Ayton, who came in shooting 70.6% in the postseason, was 8 for 10. ... Bridges scored 14 points. ... The Suns are 4-0 in Game 1s in this postseason. ... Reserve forward Dario Saric missed the second half with a right knee injury.

HAPPY TO BE HOME

Budenholzer is from Holbrook, Arizona, about three hours from Phoenix. He said his parents and other family members would be at the game.

POSTSEASON PAST

This isn't the first postseason matchup between the Bucks and Suns. Milwaukee was formerly in the Western Conference and beat Phoenix in the first round of the 1978 playoffs.

Carlisle brings optimistic vision to Pacers' bench

BY MICHAEL MAROT
ASSOCIATED PRESS

INDIANAPOLIS — Rick Carlisle chose the Indiana Pacers for many reasons.

He enjoyed his first two stints in Indianapolis, already had strong relationships with team owner Herb Simon and president of basketball operations Kevin Pritchard and thought the roster was a good fit for his coaching style.

Rick Carlisle

The Pacers appreciated something else — Carlisle's championship resume. Last Wednesday, nearly a full week after Pritchard hired him, Carlisle mapped out his vision for the Pacers.

"This is my kind of team. As I look at the roster and as I've talked to all these guys, I have an even greater feeling that it's a group of guys I will have a blast working with," he said. "I like the way they're talking. We're going to find a way to play better defense and we've got to get back to the playoffs and win in the playoffs."

Before spending 13 seasons with the Dallas Mavericks, going 555-478 and winning the NBA championship in 2010-11, Carlisle had already made two stops in Indiana.

First, he was Larry Bird's assistant coach during the most successful three-year run in franchise history.

Then he returned in 2003 for four seasons as head coach, a tenure best remembered for a brawl during a game at Detroit and the ensuing suspensions that took the Pacers out of title contention.

Four times during those seven seasons, Carlisle helped the Pacers reach the Eastern Conference finals.

His new task is to finish what he started.

"We're in a win-now mode, we're trying to win and so we identified some traits or characteristics we wanted in a coach," Pritchard said. "Those characteristics were first of all multi-year experience, we really wanted to have someone who had a championship pedigree and that can be challenging to find all of them in one person. What happened in this year's search is Rick became available."

Pritchard's description is a stark contrast to search he conducted after firing Nate McMillan last August. Back then, the Pacers wanted a new-age thinker who valued relationships. Nate Bjorkgren got the job in October and was fired in early June after one tumultuous season.

Carlisle is the opposite — a proven winner who does his best work with veteran teams.

So when Carlisle decided to leave Dallas earlier this month, Pritchard contacted his friend. Carlisle's interest changed everything.

Pritchard scuttled his plans to conduct a far-reaching search and instead focused on Carlisle, wrapping up the deal in less than a week.

Carlisle is expected to sign a contract Monday when he arrives after a short working vacation. He said he's spoken with each player and sounds like he's already making plans for next season.

Carlisle provided an impromptu scouting report Wednesday on almost every Pacers player and explained why he thinks this team, which finished 34-38 and missed the playoffs for the first time in six years, will get back into the postseason and contend for championships.

"My goal with this group is to develop it to a point a where we take great joy in getting good shots on the offensive end and take great joy in playing good defense," he said before addressing the Domantas Sabonis-Myles Turner combination. "I think there are ways we can work with their individual games and help them mesh with other guys on the floor. I've talked to both of them about it, and they're open to it. Myles is such an elite rim protector and that's such an important part of the game if you're going to get better defensively. And Domas, as I mentioned earlier, can do so many things."

What's hindered Indiana most recently has been injuries. The Pacers lost T.J. Warren, their top scorer in 2019-20, after just four games and Turner won the NBA blocks title despite missing 24 of the Pacers' last 25 games.

Carlisle has a history of managing players' workload when they're dealing with physical issues.

"If a guy has a significant injury history and you play him the first 12 minutes of the game, that's tough," he said. "As a guy becomes fatigued, he becomes more susceptible to injury.

"So one of the things we did with Dirk Nowitzki the year we won the championship is we started playing him three stretches per half. In that scenario, playing those six or seven-minute stretches, he never gets gassed and he helps the players around him."

Montreal out as 2026 World Cup site; FIFA to pick location in 2022

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MONTREAL — Montreal has withdrawn its bid to be a site of the 2026 World Cup, leaving Edmonton, Alberta, and Toronto as the only Canadian cities.

Montreal said Tuesday that the Quebec provincial government had withdrawn its support.

Eighteen U.S. stadiums in 17 areas are bidding for the event, with the Los Angeles area submitting both SoFi Stadium in Inglewood and the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, site of the 1994 World Cup final. Three cities in Mexico are bidding.

The 2026 World Cup will be the first with 48 nations and the first with three co-hosts. FIFA selected the bid as joint host in June 2018.

Sixty games are to be played in the U.S., including all from the quarterfinals on. Canada and Mexico are to host 10 games each.

The bid plan envisioned 16 total sites for the tournament.

FIFA said Tuesday it plans to conduct venue visits from September to November and finalize selections during the first six months of 2022.

The bid had been trimmed to 23 candidate areas in March 2018, including Montreal. The remaining areas and stadiums:

UNITED STATES

Arlington, Texas, AT&T Stadium; Atlanta, Mercedes-Benz Stadium; Baltimore, M&T Bank Stadium; Cincinnati, Paul Brown Stadium; Denver, Empower Field at Mile High; East Rutherford, New Jersey, MetLife Stadium; Foxborough, Massachusetts, Gillette Stadium; Houston, NRG Stadium; Inglewood, California, SoFi Stadium; Kansas City, Missouri, Arrowhead Stadium; Landover, Maryland, FedEx Field; Miami Gardens, Florida, Hard Rock Stadium; Nashville, Tennessee, Nissan Stadium; Orlando, Florida, Camping World Stadium; Pasadena, California, Rose Bowl; Philadelphia, Lincoln Financial Field; Santa Clara, California, Levi's Stadium; Seattle, Lumen Field.

CANADA

Edmonton, Alberta, Commonwealth Stadium; Toronto, BMO Field

MEXICO

U.S. women defeat Mexico in final tune-up before Olympics

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. — Tobin Heath scored her second goal in as many games and the United States beat Mexico 4-0 on Monday in the American women's final match before the Olympics.

The United States is undefeated in 44 straight matches, the second-longest unbeaten streak in team history.

The Americans also extended their winning streak against Mexico to 15 games and improved to 39-1-1 overall. The lone U.S. loss in the series was in a 2010 World Cup qualifier.

U.S. coach Vlatko Andonovski continued to fine-tune his lineups in advance of the Olympics later this month.

The United States, a four-time gold medal winner, is aiming to become the first team to follow a World Cup title with an Olympic gold medal.

"I feel good," Andonovski said. "Very excited about the trip. Obviously I feel like we're prepared. I feel like we are moving in the right direction and slowly but surely fulfilling all the tasks necessary to be fully prepared for the Olympics."

Heath started after coming off the bench and scoring in the United States' first send-off game against Mexico on Thursday, which the Americans also won 4-0. She hadn't played for some six months because of injury.

Carli Lloyd got the start Monday in place of Alex Morgan, and midfielder Rose Lavelle got the nod while Kristie Mewis and Megan Rapinoe were available off the bench.

Rapinoe, Mewis and Morgan all started the second half.

The United States scored all its goals in the first half. Horan scored on a volley in the sixth minute, followed by Lloyd's diving header in the 11th.

The United States, a four-time gold medal winner, is aiming to become the first team to follow a World Cup title with an Olympic gold medal.

"You guys don't know how often I work on volleys, they're my favorite shot to hit," Horan said. "So yeah, I was a little excited when that opportunity came. Thank goodness I didn't miss it."

After an own-goal in the 37th minute, Heath scored in the 39th.

"The energy is really high, the environment feels really great," defender Becky Sauerbrunn said. "The form on the field, I think there are still things that we're just narrowing down, and to me it's always going to be about precision. But I think we've made a lot of strides, especially in the final third, with that precision."

Horan was seen with ice on her knee, but Andonovski said after the game that it wasn't a concern.

Next up for the United States is the Tokyo Olympics. The Americans play Sweden — the team that knocked them out of the 2016 Games in the quarterfinals — to open the tournament on July 21.

The team will not have any scrimmages against other teams before the opener because of COVID-19 protocols.

Julie Ertz, who did not play in the send-off series because of a knee injury, should be available to play, Andonovski said.

Mexico did not make the field of 12 teams for the Tokyo Games.

Phoenix takes 1-0 lead into game 2 against Milwaukee

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Milwaukee Bucks (46-26, third in the Eastern Conference during the regular season) vs. Phoenix Suns (51-21, second in the Western Conference during the regular season); Phoenix; Thursday, 9 p.m. EDT.

NBA FINALS: Suns lead series 1-0

BOTTOM LINE: The Phoenix Suns host the Milwaukee Bucks in the NBA Finals with a 1-0 lead in the series. The Suns won the previous meeting 118-105. Chris Paul scored 32 points to help lead Phoenix to the victory and Khris Middleton totaled 29 points in defeat for Milwaukee.

TOP PERFORMERS: Deandre Ayton leads the Suns with 10.5 rebounds and averages 14.4 points. Devin Booker is averaging 26 points, 6.4 rebounds and 4.4 assists over the last 10 games for Phoenix.

Giannis Antetokounmpo has shot 56.9% and is averaging 28.1 points for the Bucks. Middleton is averaging 25.7 points and 7.9 rebounds while shooting 44.7% over the last 10 games for Milwaukee.

DURING THE PLAYOFFS: Suns: Averaging 109.4 points, 44.0 rebounds, 24.1 assists, 6.4 steals and 4.1 blocks per game while shooting 47.7% from the field. Their opponents have averaged 102.1 points on 43.1% shooting.

Bucks: Averaging 109.6 points, 49.7 rebounds, 22.7 assists, 7.6 steals and 4.3 blocks per game while shooting 46.0% from the field. Their opponents have averaged 104.5 points on 44.3% shooting.

REDS

stood a 2-9 on June 10, turned in his fifth straight quality start, but to no avail. He allowed one run and three hits over seven innings. He struck out four and walked one.

The Reds started the game with the first two runners reaching base but couldn't score because of an inning-ending double-play grounder by Joey Votto. Bubic wasn't as fortunate in the third, allowing his first run on an opposite-field double by Jonathan India. Stephenson reached with a single, and both runners scored on a two-out triple that just eluded Benintendi in left.

Farmer's seventh home run of the season gave the Reds a 5-0 lead in the fourth. Farmer hit a curve ball 407 feet into the seats in left center, scoring Tyler Naquin.

The Reds got that run back in the seventh on a broken-bat single by Suarez, scoring Nick Castellanos.

TRAINER'S ROOM

Jonathan India was scratched from the lineup due to a sore ankle after being involved in a tough slide play at second on Sunday. It's not expected he'll be out long, according to manager David Bell. ... 3B Mike Moustakas returned from a rehab start at Triple-A Louisville after experiencing soreness in his right foot. He last played on May 18 before going on the 10-day Injured List with a right heel contusion.
